

Vaughn Thermal Corporation and E.W. Leonard announce their new partnership

Salisbury, MA July 30, 2018 – Vaughn Thermal Corporation and E.W. Leonard are proud to announce their new partnership throughout the New England and Upstate New York plumbing and heating wholesale markets. E.W. Leonard—reporting to and collaborating with Don Flynn, Vaughn’s National Sales Manager—represent the entirety of Vaughn’s longstanding, comprehensive line of Hydrastone cement lined water heaters, as well the new Featherweight line of composite water heaters.

About Vaughn

Vaughn Thermal Corporation is a leading manufacturer of cement lined and composite water heaters, and has been headquartered in Salisbury, Massachusetts since 1961. The company manufactures its electric, solar and indirect water heaters for residential and commercial applications at its 100,000 square foot facility. In addition, Vaughn designs, produces, and programs various temperature control and demand response devices for utility deployment. Vaughn prides itself on its reputation for unparalleled customer service, support for distribution partners and reps, and premium, American-made products. For more information, visit <http://www.vaughncorp.com>.

About E.W. Leonard

E.W. Leonard was founded by Elmer Leonard in 1958, who established the company upon three fundamental elements: quality products, experienced personnel, and financial strength. These tenets continue to be upheld today. With a 15,000 square foot facility outside of Hartford, Connecticut, and with a strategically located sales team throughout New England and New York, the team at E.W. Leonard dedicates their collective efforts to servicing plumbing and heating wholesalers, HVAC distributors, and contractors. It is our firm belief that direct contact between management and customer is key; we will strive to provide the answers and product solutions you need in a prompt and professional manner! For more information, visit <http://www.ewleonard.com/>

Contact Information:

Don Flynn
Vaughn Thermal Corporation
P.O. Box 5431
26 Old Elm Street
Salisbury, MA 01952-5431
978-462-6683
dflynn@vaughncorp.com

###